

Hello everyone

For most of the children (and staff) I think that World Book Day was probably the highlight of this week! It was lovely to see so many of the children in costume. We celebrated with a story-sharing assembly and all children had the opportunity to enjoy time reading, hearing, discussing and sharing some of their favourite books. Thank you to all parents who provided the amazing costumes.

We have also had a busy week with various sports competitions happening, thank you to Miss Cowley who has helped to organise these. Some photos and further information is shared below.

It's been really nice to see an improvement in our attendance over the past couple of weeks. Good school attendance is so important, for the children's learning, their social and emotional development and their overall well-being. Now that we're starting to see some Spring sunshine, hopefully Winter germs will be a thing of the past.

With very best wishes,

Mr Shepherd

World Book Day—6th March

There was a fabulous array of costumes, books and strange accents at school on Thursday! Thank you very much to all staff and pupils for making the effort and helping us to have such a memorable day. Reading is so important for both academic development and well-being: read often, read widely, read anywhere. And if you don't like a book...that doesn't matter. Just keep reading until you find something you do like. There's a book out there for everyone!
